Dear Candidate,

I would like to thank you for considering applying for one of our exciting vacancies at the Naval Children's Charity. It includes some encouragement to get in touch and have a conversation with us if you are thinking about applying, and details on the application and recruitment process itself. We would love to hear from you, please give us the opportunity to showcase to you why we could be a great next step in your career.

This is a great time to join the Naval Children's Charity. We have changed and grown significantly over the past few years, despite the challenges of the pandemic and other global stressors. We have redefined our Mission and Vision and our Team have worked hard to develop our work culture and how we can best support our children and young people.

Part of our new strategy is to put the voice of the Naval child/young person at the heart of what we do. Our new Youth Council are really helping us develop our support offer and ensure that we are hearing and meeting their needs.

About us

The Naval Children's Charity (NCC) are dedicated to improving the wellbeing and development of Naval children and young people.

We provide a wealth of support, guidance and resources to help dependant children (up to and including the age of 25) whose parents/guardians serve or have served in the Royal Navy and who are in need, hardship or distress. With a team of caseworkers in Portsmouth, Helensburgh and Plymouth, we offer financial assistance, free resources and a range of opportunities to address the challenges that the children and young people face as a result of their parents' service.

2025 sees us celebrating our Bicentenary. 200 years since the first orphanage was opened in Portsmouth. We are so proud of our rich heritage and working together to ensure we continue to evolve and respond to the challenges that face our children and young people. We have a long history of Royal Patronage and deeply proud that this continues with HRH The Princess Royal picking up this role in 2025.
